

BOARD CUTS POLICE GRADE KNOT TONIGHT

A decision will be reached tonight by the civil service board in the angle surrounding the claims of police inspectors that they may take examinations for police captaincies, and the claims of sergeants that they may be examined for inspectorships. The decision tonight will either break or maintain the barrier between uniformed and non-uniformed police which has been in effect ever since Oakland had a detective force.

The police inspectors claim that as they rank as second lieutenants, they have the right to promotion to the captaincy, although their department is separate from the uniformed police which has been in effect ever since Oakland had a detective force.

ARGUMENTS HALT WEDDERMAN TRIAL

this case. The court finally took the matter under advisement over night.

The famous Burke case, which involved the effort of Dr. Burke to dynamite the tent where his paramour, La Smith, and her child were asleep, entered the arguments of the counsel when these were renewed this morning. The case was cited by Judge Church himself, especially the phase of it having to do with Burke's alleged efforts to get the prosecuting witness away from the jurisdiction of the state. The employment by Burke of another woman to achieve this removal was cited as an example of agency such as alleged by the prosecution in the present trial.

The chief argument toward the close of the attorneys' long session was aimed at showing that the alleged bribery by the Chinese and by Loorz were not cognate offenses. Judge Church dismissed the jury at 11:30 o'clock, and at noon terminated the arguments of counsel with the promise he would announce his decision immediately before court reconvened at 2 o'clock.

The re-direct examination of Hermann Loorz, star witness for the prosecution, started at 2:30 o'clock, and continued until 4:30 o'clock. Deputy District Attorney Theodore P. Wittschen took Loorz over much of the ground of the cross-examination, but reading longer portions of the testimony in former trials and before the grand jury with the context of matters on which Loorz had been examined in the present trial. Loorz was on the stand for three days and a half, longer than in any of the preceding cases.

tion requesting the President to inform the Senate concerning the landing of marines.

At the same time, Representative Campbell, Kansas, started an attack in the House against the use of American forces on orders of foreigners.

Hitchcock declared he is willing to be "beaten" if only prompt action can be had.

"There is a systematic filibuster going on here to delay the treaty against the wishes of the people," Hitchcock declared. "I am not protesting against this resolution. But I am protesting against this everlasting disposition to prod and annoy an administration that is doing its best to end the war. I don't believe the senators on this side are in sympathy with the practice of constantly heckling and attacking the President. We ought to act on this treaty and act on it now, even if it goes against what I believe ought to be done."

"When we reach an amendment we ought to discuss it. The Fall amendments have been before the Senate several days, but the Senate hasn't heard a word of discussion of the Fall amendments. Anything to delay, anything to procrastinate, while a few political leaders on the side think they are making political capital and political issue. I warn them that they may regret they got the issue after they got it."

U. S. Admiral Takes Adriatic Port Without Awaiting Orders

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

LEASING WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
PARIS, Sept. 30.—The landing of American marines was not directed by the supreme council here, according to the American peace delegation. It was explained that when a party of Italians entered Trian and it was feared a clash might occur between the Italians and the Serbians, the Italian admiral on the scene appealed to the American admiral to intervene for the maintenance of peace.

This, it was added, Rear Admiral Andrews did as part of his regular duties of policing the Adriatic and without any instructions from Paris.

DALMATIAN DISORDERS GIVE COUNCIL ALARM.

The instigated conditions in the Adriatic region and the dissolution of the Italian parliament for the holding of a general election on November 16, as Rome despatches announced yesterday, is giving the supreme council much concern, in view of the possibility of all the Balkans becoming involved in the turmoil.

In peace conference circles the approaching Italian elections are regarded as a struggle between the war and peace parties, or rather between the forces on the military side and those of socialist and pacifist tendencies.

While it appears that D'Annunzio and Fiume will be chiefly in issue the feeling is growing in Paris that as D'Annunzio has indicated that his aspirations include far more than Fiume, the Italian situation is daily becoming more of an international question.

The view is expressed here that the agitation might flare into war any day if, for instance, a Jugo-Slav should happen to be killed by Italian troops.

The French troops that were in Fiume have been evacuating that city for several days past, says La Liberte today. The operation, it explains, was a long one, because of the immense stores of supplies that had to be removed.

U. S. ADMIRAL PACES TRAFFIC TO ADRIATIC ORDER.

LEASING WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

ROME, Sept. 30.—American marines or bluejackets are maintaining order in the city of Spalato, Dalmatia, where Admiral Philip Andrews is stationed with his flagship, the Pittsburgh, according to reports reaching this city. It is indicated in reports that feeling is running high in Spalato and that the Americans have been forced to intervene between the Italians and Jugo-Slavs.

Admiral Andrews has at his disposal seven destroyers and two submarine chasers.

The task before Admiral Andrews is very difficult. He is obliged frequently to intervene between Italians and Slavs to prevent serious disorders. Reports state that as a result both parties accuse him of siding with their opponents.

The cruiser Olympia, formerly Admiral Andrews' flagship, has been sent to Constantinople, where it has been joined by seven destroyers which have been stationed in Turkish waters.

The Fiume issue will be laid before the Italian people on November 16, when the other matters on which the government wishes to obtain a mandate. The parliament was dissolved yesterday and will reassemble on December 1.

LEASING WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

ROME, Sept. 30.—Serbia is planning an expedition against Captain Gabriele d'Annunzio's Italian troops, who are occupying Fiume, the Berne correspondent of the Idea Nazionale reported today. The correspondent states that confirmation of this report has been received at Berne.

JITNEY BUSES READY TO TAKE PLACE OF CARS

Jitney buses will operate on all downtown streets tomorrow, if the carmen go out on strike, through emergency legislation by the city council today. Authorization was given by resolution to City Clerk L. W. Cummings to issue temporary jitney permits on the recommendation of the chief of police, these to be revocable at will by the chief or the council. The usual bond will be asked of all jitney operators.

This method will relieve to some extent the shortage of transportation facilities, according to William A. Spooner, secretary of the Central Labor Council, who filed the suggestion with the council.

Pistol Shot Brings Ex-Marine to Time

The shot that whizzed over the head of J. B. Nash, former marine, at Fifteenth and Washington streets at midnight, served to enter a considerable crowd, but did no damage. It was fired by Captain H. L. Powell, heading a provost guard that was rounding up soldiers of various orders in this city last night.

When Nash was accosted by Powell he started to run and was pursued by Powell for a block. Powell finally fired a shot over his head, which brought him to a halt.

Nash was taken to the city jail on charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

ing abiding by the government order that no advance in wages be accorded the men until after efforts had been made by the President and national officials to bring down the cost of living while four efforts to give the men the wage increases provided in a recently-made agreement.

SHIPPING BOARD EDICTS ISSUED.

So that no yard or shops, doing government work, could bring away from the new order, shipping board edicts have been issued, saying that only establishments not granting the increases, would receive future government contracts. The following communication was issued yesterday by the California Metal Trades Association—the employing shore and yards:

"At a general meeting of the California Metal Trades Association, held today, it was decided that no wage increase would be made in our member shops on October 1, 1919.

"We are of the opinion that a wage increase at this time would be ill-advised in the face of the expressed wishes of our government officials and would serve to nullify their efforts to hold or reduce the cost of living.

"We will therefore continue the present wage scale after October 1 in all shops members of the California Metal Trades Association.

"CALIFORNIA METAL TRADES ASSOCIATION."
"Fred C. Metcalf, Secretary."

This communication, mailed to the Bay Cities Metal Trades Council, is in answer to an ultimatum, issued several days ago by the union men, who threatened strike unless the Macy award substitute was made.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30.—Shipbuilders at Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors will strike at midnight tonight unless the Emergency Fleet corporation rescinds the order refusing conformance to an arrangement whereby workers would have received an increase of 5 cents an hour effective October 1.

That announcement was made last night by H. B. McMurry, president, and W. P. Kent, secretary, of the Los Angeles Emergency Fleet Trades Council. They declared 8000 men would be affected. Officials of shipbuilding companies said they had not that many men in their employ.

JOHNSON TO ARRIVE HERE THIS EVENING

Senator Hiram Johnson came here to California and to San Francisco this afternoon to deliver "the other side of the question," his answer to President Wilson's arguments for the treaty of Versailles and the covenant of the League of Nations.

Oakland sent a delegation to the Southern Pacific mole on this side of the bay to greet the Senator when his train should arrive, the scheduled hour being 4:50. These Eastbay welcomers, comprising a few of the leading Johnson supporters, planned to accompany the Senator to San Francisco, where Mayor Rolph was to deliver the official welcome.

The Oakland Johnson committee realized that there would be time for only a short greeting here, but the members will take an active part in the reception on the other side of the bay and expect a large number of Eastbay folk to attend the meetings there.

The San Francisco committee also planned to meet the Senator at the Oakland mole, and accompany him across the bay.

Three speeches will be delivered in San Francisco. The first will be at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow. This evening Senator Johnson plans to spend resting in his home on Russian Hill.

The moon speech will be at the Palace Hotel, where he will be the guest of the Downtown Association, Advertising Club, Commonwealth Club, Rotary Club and Home Industry League. When it comes time for the address the doors of Palm Court, where the luncheon will be served, will be thrown open to admit as many persons as possible.

The principal address of the trip, corresponding to the President's speech in the auditorium, will be delivered tomorrow evening at the Coliseum. No reservations will be made for this meeting. It is expected by those arranging the affair that the Senator will speak to between 13,000 and 15,000 persons.

Senator Johnson will be the guest Thursday noon at a women's luncheon at the Fairmont hotel. The number of guests is limited to 800. The Senator will leave at 8 o'clock Thursday evening for the Lark for Los Angeles and will make several speeches in the south.

Police, Firemen Will Get Raise Berkeleyans Appreciate Efficiency

BERKELEY, Sept. 30.—Are Berkeley's scientifically trained policemen, known throughout the world for their advanced methods of criminology, worth as much to the city as common laborers or milk wagon drivers?

An emphatic yes answered this question at a largely attended meeting held yesterday afternoon in the council chamber at the city hall as the first step toward securing an increase in salaries for the officers of the law. Resolutions were adopted which were presented to the council this morning declaring for an "adequate" raise in the present wage scale to combat the evils of the H. C. L.

Berkeley's firemen shared in the general commendation of the meeting and an amendment to the original resolution was unanimously adopted making them beneficiaries in any increase which may be granted members of the police department.

MAY NEED SPECIAL TAX. Levying of a special tax by vote of the citizens of Berkeley was declared by Councilman Charles D. Heywood, commissioner of public health and safety, as the only step open at present to secure the sought-for increase. The $10 monthly raise sought by policemen will represent an expenditure of $60,000 a year when applied to both police and fire departments, Heywood declared. Such an amount, he stated, was not available in the city treasury at present and could hardly be raised by "trimming" Mayor Louis Bartlett and other members of the city council.

He added that the council is unequally divided in favor of meeting the request of the officers of the law if available funds could be raised. The mayor declared that an increase in wages should apply to workers in the street department also.

James Koford, former assistant district attorney, presided at yesterday's meeting. Detective Sergeant A. J. Wood opened the afternoon's discussion by presenting the request of the patrolmen for a salary of $170 monthly. The reading of Wood's statement was immediately followed by a resolution submitted by George Gelder recommending an increase, with Mrs. C. C. Berwick seconding the motion for its adoption. Koford drew the speakers to discussion and commercial organizations, the university, mothers' clubs and other bodies of college city workers joined the policemen in the recognition of a substantial wage.

ABILITY RECOGNIZED. "The ability of Berkeley's police department demands more than local applause," declared Dr. H. N. Rowell. "The Berkeley policeman is not an old-style 'cop.' He is known in all corners of the world as a scientific specialist whose chief aim is to prevent crime rather than seek criminals to punish. For $4 a day he has at the present time offered himself as a human target. He is entitled to more consideration at the hands of his people at home."

Mrs. William E. Colby, prominent Berkeley club woman and social worker, declared that the unusual courtesy and decency of the Berkeley police should be rewarded in some more substantial way than mere thanks.

Other similar pleas were made by J. W. Flynn, manager of the University of California Press; Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon; Dr. Ralph Larkin, pastor of the North Congregational church; Dr. F. N. Morrison, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church; Professor C. L. Cory of the University of California; County Treasurer Fred W. Foss, Supervisor Redmond C. Staats, J. C. Tefft, Mrs. Mabel Mitchell and others.

WRECK VICTIM ON HIS WAY TO VISIT BROTHER

ALAMEDA, Sept. 30.—Ernest Ihrig of Chicago, coming to Alameda on a surprise visit to his brother, William Ihrig of 1103 Broadway, was one of the persons injured in a wreck near Kings City Sunday night. It was a 10:00 train wrecked near Kings City Sunday night. It was a 10:00 train wrecked near Kings City Sunday night.

Ernest Ihrig, wife of the Alameda brother, innocently stated yesterday that she was a member of her family was among the injured, only to find out later that her brother-in-law was in the wreck. A wrong address and the describing of the injured passenger as a woman, further confused matters.

The Alameda brother, on his way to work in San Francisco, at Fourth and Channel streets, saw from the street car the taking of the injured passengers from the train at Third and Townsend, but proceeded to his work, ignorant of the fact that his own brother was among those being taken from the train to be carried to the railroad hospital.

Ernest Ihrig recently returned from United States war service overseas. He was in the motor transportation service. He is also a stenographer and typist. He is the son of William Ihrig of Eagle, Wisconsin. He sent no advance warning of his coming to California and planned to surprise his Alameda relatives. Mrs. Ihrig of this city is in business at 1532 San Pablo avenue, Oakland, being the owner of the Ihrig Art and Needlework Shop.

When Mrs. Ihrig was at the hospital in San Francisco yesterday her injured kinsman was just coming out from under the anesthetic following an operation for a badly torn and cut arm. He was weak from loss of blood. At the hospital Mrs. Ihrig was told by the hospital attendants that her brother-in-law's life was saved by some woman on the wrecked train who bound his freely-bleeding arm and stopped the further loss of blood.

Pass Key Burglars Make Large Hauls Valuable and clothing were taken from the room of Ed Bero, 429 Ninth street, early this morning by a pass-key burglar, according to Bero's complaint at police headquarters. His watch, chain, clothing and other personal articles were missing.

J. P. Brown reported the visit of a thief in his room at the Central hotel, 628 Twelfth street, and the disappearance of clothing, a small amount of money and suitcase.

A pickpocket relieved John Sweet of Needles, Cal., of a stop-watch in the lobby of a Broadway hotel, Sweet complained to the police.

Car Morse Wants Priced at $6000 Appropriation, Alas, Only $3000

Because he wanted to out-mayor the mayor, Commissioner F. F. Morse won't get his new automobile for a while.

The commissioner was authorized by the council some days ago to get a new auto, three thousand dollars being appropriated for it. So Morse and Ben B. Jones, his executive secretary, sat them down and prepared specifications for the new machine. It was to be a car that would rival the mayor's famous machine in splendor, with a fifty-horsepower motor. The specifications were complete, they called for bids.

But alas! There are no bids. The automobile agents say that one can't buy a car fitting those specifications for less than six thousand—perhaps not that.

"No three thousand dollar car I know of, with fittings as specified, could be looked at for three thousand," said Chris Nielsen, automobile expert, today. "Perhaps there is a certain well known six-cylinder car fitting the specifications that would require fifty horsepower; but that car sells for much more than three thousand."

Auto agents say that the commissioner will have to withdraw his specifications and change them, or buy a car in the open market, because of failure to receive bids.

Truck Values Are Told at Hearing San Jose-Oakland Line Is Proposed That the demand for speed in modern commercial life is calling the motor truck more and more into service of the shipper was the testimony given today before the State Railway Commission, sitting in Oakland, at the meeting room of the board of county supervisors.

Witnesses said the trucks speed up the service 25 per cent or more and bring the service direct to the door of the producer and dealer.

The meeting was to consider the application of G. F. Neeson, C. Woodward and others for a motor line freight franchise between Oakland and San Jose. Their witnesses told the commission that the motor trucks will transport the farmers between stations and tap sections now without service.

W. J. Harris, a wholesale produce merchant, told the commission that the railway service is inadequate, especially in the handling of perishable produce, because of the slowness of delivery.

Edward Entleman, assistant superintendent in the railway service, denied the claim of Harris and said that a night train from San Jose and that night delivers the cars at the platform for unloading earlier than 3 o'clock. He admitted that from Watsonville and other points farther away than San Jose the service is not so prompt. He maintained, however, that the service is adequate, as did representatives of the express companies.

Entleman said that the haul between Oakland and San Jose amounts to about three cars a day. He was in doubt as to whether the way business is actually profitable to the companies, but was inclined to claim it to be so. He said the truck lines are robbers of the railways and not dependable, that they fail to run on schedule and when the weather is bad remain in the garage.

"Is it not true that the trucks are able to give quicker service, and therefore more economical?" he asked.

Compton Says Lewis Is a "Man Hater"

Lester Lewis, who pleaded guilty to attempting to rob a house at 1899 Jackson street, is a misanthropist. That is the main reason why Probation Officer Leonard Compton refused to recommend probation.

Compton says the defendant is a man hater, that he hates all humanity, and that therefore he is not a fit person to mingle in society. Judge Quinn sent him to San Quentin.

the ever increasing demand for water

During the past decade, the population of the East Bay Cities has increased 56 per cent.

Increased population means increased water consumption.

Even more important is the industrial development—for great industries use vast quantities of water.

The future needs of this community have been ever uppermost in the minds of the present management.

Minor sources of supply have been developed; new wells sunk; new possible nearby sources considered; and most important, the Great San Pablo Project has been developed within a few months of completion.

While these sources of supply will take care of the needs of this community for a good many years to come, consideration is to be given to additional sources at a distance. But naturally this company does not want to develop far-away sources, where the cost of transporting water will increase, until all available nearby sources have been fully utilized.

In the advertisements to follow will be described the developments to date at the Great San Pablo Project; for it is on this project, costing more than $3,000,000, that the energies of this company are at this time centered.

Most Beautiful Women in the World

Frederick O'Brien, geologist, explorer and editor of the Manila Times, has returned from the Marquesas Islands, down Tahiti way, with details of his discovery of the world's prettiest women—wild women who battled with him in the hills and who are cannibals!

In the Sunday TRIBUNE of Oct. 5 he tells of his researches. These women are descendants of white explorers who went to the South Seas from Asia in the dawn of civilization. How the scientist lived among the natives for months forms a fascinating narrative.

Who Is the Great Unnamed Poet?

A distinct literary sensation will be sprung in The OAKLAND TRIBUNE of October 5 when two of the best poems of recent years will be printed with only the finger-print of the author as the signature. These poems have been pronounced among the masterpieces of contemporary writers of verse, but the identity of the writer, for reasons of his own, is concealed. The poems have the swing and breadth of Kipling in them. Read them and be the judge!

STATE CAPITAL EXPECTS MANY BIG FACTORIES

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—Ten thousand dollars has been voted by the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce for a comprehensive industrial survey of the city. This action has been taken because of indications which point to a very rapid growth of Sacramento during the next ten years, particularly along industrial lines.

The committee in charge of the survey is headed by Herman Davis, prominent business man.

Professor W. C. Bryant, of Stanford University, will be the consulting expert and will have a leading part in the investigations. The committee is to give attention to development of the city's waterfront, suitable locations for prospective industrial plants, and other big matters affecting the capital's expansion along modern municipal lines.

GERMAN 'COUNT' IS GIVEN 3 YEARS

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—"Count" Max Lynar Loudon, a former German agent, who included among his exploits a plot to kidnap President Wilson and invade Canada with 150,000 German reservists, was sentenced to three years in Sing Sing prison yesterday for attempted forgery. The "count" was recently released from the same prison, where he has spent his time since April, 1918, serving an indeterminate sentence for bigamy.

When he was not engaged on his plot to invade Canada, Loudon occupied himself with promoting a company to manufacture a "unsinkable" ship he claimed to have invented. He succeeded in interesting several financiers in this project, among them being William Bernard, president of the International Salt Company and director of the Irving National Bank. Later Mr. Bernard swore out a warrant for his arrest after he learned that Loudon was trying to influence other financiers by exhibiting a check for $10,000 to which he had signed the banker's name.

Loudon was always a "count" during his American career, but the remainder of his name changed as fancy dictated. He was successively known as Count Albert Marie de Fussy, Count Gohard von Blucher and Count Chilmang.

MEXICANS TO FIRE ON FLIERS

EL PASO, Texas, Sept. 30.—American aviators flying into Mexico will be fired upon by Mexican troops, according to a message received from Mexico City by El Nacional, a Mexican newspaper here, which stated that Ignacio Bonillas, Mexican ambassador at Washington, has been instructed to convey this information to the state department.

General M. M. Dieguez, commander of the Carranza forces in Chihuahua, has not yet been ordered to fire on the American fliers, pending the reply of the United States to Bonillas' communication, it is said. Reports of aviators flying over Mexico have brought many complaints from the federal officials.

Information was received here today from General Dieguez that six former Villa followers had surrendered to his troops and sought amnesty. Their pardon was granted, it was said. The men were Antonio Ortega, Jose Marquez, Jose Gonzalez, Pablo Gutierrez, Lazaro Munoz and Benito Ramirez. They are said to have given the Chihuahua commander detailed reports of the operations of the rebels in Northern Mexico and said they surrendered because they believed their cause was failing. Two other rebel leaders are reported to have been captured by General Pablo Gonzalez near Trenzelen.

STATE WILL OPEN LANDS FOR SETTLERS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—Twelve thousand acres of additional lands will be opened to settlers next spring by the California Land Settlement Board, it was announced today by Elwood Mead, chairman of the board. The first farm of this kind, established at Durham in the Sacramento valley, was such a great success that the legislature at the last session made provision for additional tracts. October 1 has been set as the time limit by the board for owners of suitable lands to submit their propositions. The proposals will be considered on October 6.

Under the state land settlement plan, the state gives the farmer a financial start, and enables him to pay back the loan in easy installments. At the Durham tract, farms were taken under this system as rapidly as the lands could be subdivided and prepared for settlement. All available lands within this tract have been taken, and the farmers are making money. There have been numerous inquiries received by the board as to the possibility of securing further lands, but those who wish to take advantage of the plan must wait until the new tracts are opened in the spring.

AVIATORS TAKE GUNS, DOGS, GO DEER HUNTING

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—Four fliers from Mather field are enjoying an unusual hunting trip in the Sierra Nevada mountains. The journey was made primarily for the purpose of finding landing places for airplanes, but when it was learned that they were going into a section where deer are plentiful, they took along their guns and decided to try hunting game from the air. They were accompanied in the planes by a game warden, forest ranger and a number of dogs.

Colgate Will Give $200,000 to Colleges

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 30.—Yale and Colgate universities each receive $100,000 by the will of Richard M. Colgate, soap manufacturer of West Orange, N. J., which was filed for probate here. The will leaves to Henry A. Colgate, a son, stock in Colgate & Co., held by his father, while the residue of the estate, the value of which is not given, goes to the widow and a daughter.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—The first California chapter of the American War Mothers, a national organization, was established in Sacramento this week.

Two Hundred Needed in Harvesting Rice

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—Strong northwest winds during the past week have hastened the rice harvest in Sacramento valley, and the growers are sending out hurry calls for labor. The State employment bureau has been asked to send men to the Willows, California, section alone. The wages range from $3 to $7 a day.

Electric Vacuum Cleaner To You

—but before you spend one penny we send the cleaner to you for ten whole days on

FREE TRIAL

No obligation or expense to you whatever. We want you to be the judge—try it on your carpets, rugs, curtains, etc.—just as though it were your own. If you decide you can't get along without it, then you may pay down $2.50 and the balance on the easiest kind of monthly payments.

REMEMBER—you are getting the rock bottom special factory price and you are getting the very latest, guaranteed, advanced model Eureka Electric Vacuum Cleaner.

This Great Offer Expires Oct. 25th

Don't delay! This great free trial and easy payment offer expires sharply on Oct. 25th next. Only a limited number of these new machines will be placed in Oakland on this generous plan. You can easily understand why we cannot afford to make this offer generally or permanently. Don't delay until the big rush is on the last day.

And remember you are getting the Eureka Electric Vacuum Cleaner you are reading about each month in such magazines as the Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal, Good Housekeeping, etc.

No strings are attached to this free trial offer—no cost to you whatever. We want you to use the Eureka Cleaner for ten days just as though it were your own. Clean your carpets and your rugs with it. Try it on your furniture, your mattresses, your walls. Try it on all the nooks and corners; subject it to every test you can think of.

And then if you are not more than pleased with it, we will send to get the cleaner and the free trial will not cost you a penny.

Don't Buy Any Vacuum Cleaner Until You Have Tried the Eureka

"It Gets the Dirt—Not the Carpet"

Yes, there is a difference. The measure of Eureka's superiority lies in the great volume of air that rushes through the carpet or fabric into its nozzle—and the velocity at which it travels. The real secret of Vacuum Cleaner Efficiency is Volume and Velocity. Only the bonafide vacuum cleaner derives its cleaning power from this principle—only the bonafide vacuum cleaner removes its original efficiency. The Eureka Bros get the surface dirt—the hair and thread—the air gets the dirt—the dirt embedded in the fabric.

Don't put this off a minute. Send the coupon, write at once, or telephone our store!

MILK TO STAY AT 14 CENTS IN OAKLAND

There will be no increase in milk prices in this city tomorrow, according to distributors, who say that the present figure of 8 cents a pint and 14 cents a quart will continue to prevail.

Beginning tomorrow distributors in San Francisco will charge 9 cents a pint and 15 cents a quart for milk, according to a decision reached yesterday at meeting of the Milk Dealers' Association. Such was the decision unanimously reached. It is reported, after a discussion of the question by practically every large distributor in that city.

The dealers claim that yesterday's increase was made necessary by the increase in wages paid wagon drivers and help employed at the plants. All milk wagon drivers on July 1 were given a raise to $1.50 from $1.25.

Pershing Honored by Foreign War "Vets"

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—General John J. Pershing has been elected honorary commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in the National Council of Administration. This is the first time in the history of the organization, which includes only men who have seen service under the American flag in foreign countries, that such an honor has been conferred.

General Pershing has been a member of the Legion post of Manila for nineteen years, since his service in the Philippines, but this is the first time he has ever held office in the organization.

EASTBAY SOCIETY NEWS

Four Hundred to Be Present at Social Debut

The latest debutante to be formally presented to society on both sides of the bay is Miss Elizabeth Bliss, cousin of Miss Jessie Knowles, who will make her social debut the evening of October 24 at a brilliant ball for four hundred guests at the Fairmont hotel in San Francisco. Preceding the dance, Miss Knowles will be hostess at a large dinner party at which the debutantes will be guests. Miss Elizabeth Bliss is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Bliss of Piedmont.

The date for Miss Elizabeth Bliss's coming out party will probably be set ahead since word was received yesterday morning to the effect that Mrs. Valentine Hush, grandmother of Miss Bliss, who was expected to arrive from the east in time for the affair, would be unable to join her family until the yesterday. Mrs. Hush is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Frank Wolff, in Burlington, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Magee and their son, who have been guests at St. Catherine's hotel on Santa Catalina island for the past two months, have just returned home from southern California.

MANY AFFAIRS FOR MISS EDITH FARLEY

That social debutante who has returned from Boston, where she has been studying. Webster photo Keystone Pictorial Service.

MISS EDITH FARLEY, the younger matrons and girls have been invited.

TO WED FIRST WEEK IN DECEMBER.

If present plans are perfected, Miss Marion Bilger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bilger of this city, will be married December 4. Miss Bilger has selected as her attendant Miss Helen Druke to be her maid of honor. Miss Mildred Oliver and Miss Adele Crist to be bridesmaids. The ceremony will be performed at the home of Miss Bilger's fiancé from Salt Lake City. Miss Bilger will be the guest of honor at a number of social affairs a few weeks hence.

Two bridge parties of next month will be those over which Mrs. Frederick Bradshaw and Mrs. Paul Dimmock will preside as hostesses. The first of these parties, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Bradshaw, will be Mrs. Kendall Morgan, Mrs. Morgan and her husband are to leave in about ten days for the east to make their home for a year or more in New York. Mrs. Bradshaw will be the guest of honor at a number of social affairs a few weeks hence.

MUSICAL TO BE IN THOUSAND OAKS

A reception and concert will be given jointly by Miss Cora L. Williams and Miss Helen Druke on Saturday afternoon, October 4, at the beautiful home of Mrs. Williams in Thousand Oaks. The guest of honor is to be Wager Swagney, pianist and teacher of Paris, who is spending a year in San Francisco.

Swagney is one of the most eminent musicians of the present day, and his visit to California has aroused interest in social and musical circles. Although an American by birth, he was decorated by the French government in appreciation of his artistic achievements and his interest in the French people.

A large number of his artistic pupils followed him to California from Paris, New York and Boston, and one of the most gifted, Miss Marion Bilger, will play a choice program on this occasion.

The Monday Evening Assembly will hold its initial dance and ball the evening of October 6, in the room of the Hotel Oakland. This is the third season the group of friends have assembled for informal dances and amusements to participate in these year are Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Melburn and Mrs. H. D. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Larch, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bellink, Mr. and Mrs. George Makins and J. T. Part.

Wife Pleads for Accused Spouse

"Please, your honor, give him another chance. He'll take care of me and the kiddies if you'll give him another chance."

It was almost a tearful plea, coming from the lips of Mrs. Frank Furtado when she asked for leniency for her husband, whom she had charged with failure to provide for herself and their two children.

The wife was convinced that two days' confinement had cured her better-half. The husband, himself, was inclined likewise.

There was nothing to do but remonstrate the pair and this Police Judge George Samuels cheerfully did.

Clubwomen for Internationalism On World Peace

By EDNA B. KINARD

Clubwomen may shy when it comes to expressing themselves on the proposed League of Nations and all that it involves. But they do not hesitate to declare that they believe in internationalism and international peace. They have given, through the General Federation of Women's Clubs, as represented in the body of state presidents and department chairmen, their endorsement to the National Peabody Foundation for International Educational Correspondence. State federations are called upon to co-operate with the national and state officers of this foundation to a speedy consummation of its program.

The National Peabody Foundation is founding a bureau of French American educational correspondence to serve the schools of France, Belgium and America. Later a Spanish-American bureau will be founded.

Thus a new educational agency promise to be introduced into the schools of the country. French and Belgian school children are studying English with renewed energy because they have seen the soldiers from over the waters and American youngsters have never given up their French books. Overseas and native students under the supervision of teachers the foundation is convinced that better language training, exchange of historic and geographic material and human ideals will result from the plan whose ultimate aim is the reinforcement of the internationalism of the future. Mrs. Mary Giles Howard of Chattanooga, Tenn., is president of the foundation.

Mrs. Edith Parks, who is in charge of the financial department of the Democratic National Committee, studied law before entering politics.

The High Cost of Living is not confined only to food, which is the commonest of all, but is a conference on luncheon prices, but Oakland center, California Civic League, has been driven to throw a new barometer upon its budget and make committees. Rents have taken upon themselves wings, and nothing remained but for the center to soul along with them. It is conceded that Hotel Oakland is the most comfortable place at the present time for the bi-monthly meetings. In years past the center has contributed $15 a month toward its housing privileges. During the coming twelve months this sum will be increased to $20, a comfortable percentage for present rents. Membership in the center exacts but a dollar a year from each woman. The wonders of feminine finance may be pointed out when it is shown that this sum covers the cost of printing, mailing, housing and other sundries incidental to organization. It is apparent this year that some ways must be devised to help along the center.

That is the reason for the theater party at the Fulton on Tuesday evening, October 21, arranged on behalf of the center by Miss Bessie J. Wood, chairman of the finance committee.

Honore McNamara, woman attorney of Oakland, N. J., just back from overseas, has the distinction of feeding about 5,000 soldiers daily.

The Twentieth Century Club has time last year for little but war work. This year the calendars are making plenty of reservations for play. As one of the series of fun, this about at 10 o'clock there is a desire to collect funds to extend club activities, as the theater party to night at the Fulton playhouse. Mrs. Walter L. Glenn is in charge of the benefit for the Berkeley woman.

Probably the oldest woman living in New York City is Mrs. Harriet C. Bouley, who was born in 1832 and has already cast her ballot on two occasions.

A memorial for Mrs. Thomas Bennett is being circulated in the calendar of Ethel. Mrs. Bennett, although not a charter member, was among the earlier women to take an active part in the exclusive organization.

Clermont Club quite frankly announces that October is a play month. The season will be ushered in next Tuesday night with a brilliant function which will combine a formal dance and a delightful supper. The affair will have all the appointments of a real party. A fortnight later the same group of neighborhood friends will give their attention to cards. Clarence O. Flint is this year president of the Clermont Club.

Grant School Parent Teacher Association is in earnest about the proposed school bond issue. A reception with music and speakers and all that goes into the making of a festive time is arranged for tomorrow afternoon in the school auditorium with every mother in the district an invited guest. School bond proposition gives the inspiration to the affair, as it will also to the reception, community dance and program which will entertain the mothers along with the mothers on the evening of October 10.

Dr. Susan Fenton is being welcomed home from an interesting trip to New York, where she went as a representative of the local Young Woman's Christian Association. Dr. Fenton did some advanced work along the new medical line which the association has included in its program for young women.

Dr. Clifford B. Sweet discussed the "Prevention of Diseases" before the mothers who visited the baby welfare clinic in Plymouth center this morning.

The cobbling outfit for installation in Harrison street school has been ordered by Oakland Education on Mothers' Club and local business. It will not be many weeks before the boys will be hard at work in the new department which will be maintained by the Board of Education. The day classes will be for the youngsters. The night classes will be filled up with adults—fathers to be sure, mothers, maybe.

Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt and Superintendent of Schools Fred Hunt will be invited to be the guests of honor at the annual luncheon at which the Oakland federation will be hostess at Hotel Oakland on October 16. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Edward Morgan, the program is being arranged by Mrs. J. T. Kramer and Mrs. J. W. Comstock.

SAYS ARMY 'BUNK,' BATTLE FOLLOWS

Joe Lopez has a large following when he says the army "isn't the bunk."

Joe Kisonos said the "army is the bunk," Lopez charged. Thus a new battle began on Oakland soil, the objective being to convince Kisonos the army was O. K. But in the course of the battle Kisonos unfairly drew a knife and attempted to carve Lopez, is another charge.

Lopez pleaded not guilty to disturbing the peace and Kisonos also pleaded not guilty.

RUSSIA ONLY OUTLAW IN U. S. TRADE RULES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Russia alone of all the nations of the world is "outlawed" to American trade under new regulations issued by the War Trade Board section of the State Department.

Trading with exception of certain articles may now be carried on with Turkey, Hungary, Bulgaria and Austria without individual export licenses. Trading in arms, munitions and explosives is prohibited without license to China, and the exportation of wheat and wheat flour still remains in the hands of the wheat director.

With the new regulations, restrictions on American trading, which were promulgated during the war are almost completely removed.

Happy Mothers

Many mothers who in order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well fed and dressed, continually overdo.

The experience of motherhood alone causes a severe strain upon the system, from which many women recover slowly, and serious feminine disorders may develop unless great care is taken to prevent them.

To such women Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is invaluable. For many years this root and herb medicine has been recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills, restoring them to a normal, healthy condition.

Mrs. Morgan's Case

East Hampton, N. Y. — "For two years I suffered with a female weakness, pains in my back and painful periods, and I was so weak and tired that I was not able to do my work. A friend told me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it gave me great relief. My pains left me and I am now able to do my work and feel fine. You can publish my testimonial and if your Vegetable Compound does others as much good as it has me I will be very much pleased."—Mrs. CHARLES E. MORGAN, C of E. L. Dennett.

A Word to Childless Women

There are women everywhere who long for children in their homes yet are denied this happiness on account of some functional disorder which in many cases would readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial.

LIBRARY BAN ON EMERYVILLE FOLK

Residents of Emeryville, who for many years have enjoyed free privileges of the Oakland library, were notified today that, following a ruling of the county supervisors, cards held by them would no longer be respected. New cards, good for six months, will be issued any resident of Emeryville on the payment of $1. This new ruling applies only to Emeryville residents who do not pay taxes in Oakland, according to Charles S. Green, librarian, but this is taken to mean that all except a few residents of the municipality will be obliged to give up currency for the books they read during the coming half year. The existing contract between the local library and Emeryville householders closes today.

WAS ABOUT TO SELL HER HOME

Mrs. Forsythe Was Almost a Nervous and Physical Wreck Until Restored by Tanlac.

"Before I took Tanlac not a week passed in the last year or years that I wasn't confined to my bed part of the time," was the statement made a few days ago by Mrs. J. E. Forsythe, of 126 West Forty-sixth St., Los Angeles, to the Tanlac representative. "I was a well and happy woman, and I'm glad I can give out this testimonial, for I believe Tanlac is the most powerful thing in the world. I've gained fourteen pounds and feel stronger than I have in ten years," continued Mrs. Forsythe. "I had an acid stomach, and suffered with sour gas at times so bad that I thought I would suffocate. Sick headaches would come on me and I would have such an awful fluttering about my heart I would almost faint. My nervous went to pieces, and I became so terribly nervous that even the ring of the door bell would upset me. For the past five years I have not been able to eat hardly anything that would stay on my stomach, and even milk and water at times would upset my stomach and cause me to have to go to bed. I lived on a strict diet of rice and milk for over a year, and at the same time I tried all kinds of treatments, but none gave me a particle of relief, not even temporary. And finally I was in such a bad condition I had to stay in bed most of the time. So my husband and I decided to give up our home and sell it, as I couldn't look after it. By this time I was down to ninety-eight pounds in weight, and was almost a complete nervous and physical wreck. I hated to give up my home, and on the advice of a friend who had used Tanlac I decided to try it first. With the first bottle I began to improve, and I hadn't finished my second bottle before I was feeling like a different woman, and now my troubles of ten years' standing have entirely gone. I never have a sick headache or spell with my stomach. My appetite has come back, and I'm gaining in weight and strength every day. Nothing ever disturbs my nerves now, for they were never better, and I can sleep fine all night long, and my neighbors are rejoicing with me over my recovery, and I feel that it's my duty to give a public statement and tell of the wonderful good Tanlac has done me. No, we didn't sell our home, because we found this medicine in time."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

OAKLAND PARLOR WILL REACH GOAL

The second class initiation to be held by Oakland Parlor No. 50, N. S. C. W., since the start of the state campaign to bring the membership of all parlors up to 500, will be held at Native Sons' hall, Eleventh and Clay streets, next Friday night. A month ago Oakland parlor installed more than two dozen new members, reaching the half-way mark of their goal. The membership campaign will run into next April, and the campaign committee is confident that Oakland parlor will easily go over the 500 mark.

At the last meeting the good of the order committee and the officers of Oakland parlor, to use their own outlined ways of having three Friday nights out of each month for entertaining the members. In the past Oakland parlor has held business meetings each week, but starting Friday only one night of each month will be given to business.

The good of the order committee planned an entertainment to follow the initiation of about a dozen members next Friday.

Aesthetic Dancing Growing Popular

Aesthetic dancing, once a curiosity, has become so popular that women's gymnasium classes are utilizing it as part of their training courses. The feminine athletic class for Alameda county residents, held every Tuesday and Thursday evening at Oakland High school, is learning the technique, history and splendor of the art.

In addition to the dance, drills, Swedish gymnastics, folk dancing and group games are given under instruction of Miss Hilda Clute. All women are invited to take up the course of instruction, those engaged in business during the day receiving a special invitation to join the class at Twelfth and Jefferson streets.

Colored Defenders Plan to Give Dance

The Colored Defenders' club of this city will give a dance and card party for service men, Lincoln hall Saturday evening, October 4. Refreshments and musical entertainment for the men are to be provided. An attempt will also be made to organize a post of the American Legion for colored service men at the Defenders' club at 721 Market street. This meeting will commence at 8 p. m. and terminate at 8 p. m. Colonel H. C. Mathews, of Alameda will address the men and explain the purposes of the legion. All men who served in the army or navy between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, are invited to attend.

"DOWN RAINBOW LANE" TO REPEAT

Another performance of "Down Rainbow Lane," the Alameda county Elks' amateur production, will be given next Monday night at the civic auditorium. The two original performances realized a large fund for the Elks with which to provide Christmas cheer for the sick and needy folk of this county. The third performance will tend to care for a larger number of people in want than originally intended.

Principals and 200 trained choristers have again begun rehearsing the songs and dance numbers, which proved popular with Elks, their families and friends in the original

REVELATION of a WIFE

by ADELE GARRISON

"What you don't up there?"

The voice of the ferret-faced youth was staccato, peremptory. There was a note in it which explained why he, and not the bulky, brutal Otto, was the leader of the gang of conspirators I had surprised at the quaint woodland inn.

"Just looking to see whether Sophie had locked this door securely. She was altogether too soft-hearted about that woman to suit me."

There was docility in Otto's voice. There was suppressed enmity between the two men I was certain in it lay my only hope. Even if Ernest were to see the desirability of putting me out of the way he wouldn't yield to Otto's persistence in the matter.

"For the love of Mike!" Ernest exploded. It was only another instance of the slang which made up the most of his vocabulary, as it does many a slang of his type. I reflected whimsically that this daredevil young Teutonic spy and my faithful Katie had trait in common, for Katie fairly revels in American slang.

I did not dare to think of Katie, however, or of any one or anything connected with my home. I needed every bit of force and poise I possessed, and I knew of nothing so certain to unnerve me in my awful peril as thoughts of the home I had left so lightly in the morning.

Ernest was continuing his remarks, and it behooved me to listen carefully.

DISCONCERTING INTERRUPTION

"The trouble with you, Grandpa," he said with studied insolence, "is that you're so far from the neck up and out that you're fryin' from the heat. And there ain't room in your noodle for more than one idea at a time. You've got that poor nut upstairs on the brain, and you're seein' things. Now, just let me tell you something!"

But what Otto was to hear from the ferret-faced youth I was never to know. From the auto lane leading up to the inn there came the sound of an auto horn blown loudly and imperiously.

"Mein Gott in Himmel!" Otto's heavy tones had a quaver in them as he uttered the ejaculation, but Ernest wasted no time in oaths or prayers.

"Otto!" His tone was like the crack of a whip. "Get down those stairs before whatever blasted fool there is in that machine comes inside, and beat it around the back way. From the auto lane leading up to the inn there came the sound of an auto horn blown loudly and imperiously."

His last words held the suspicion of a sneer, not plain enough to catch Otto's dull brain, but perceptible to any one who had ever made a study of voices.

"It may be nobody worth bothering about, and if so there's no harm done. I'll go and spiel 'em a bit now. Come on, sir, your stumps faster than that!"

A FAMILIAR FIGURE

Otto had been descending the stairs as Ernest was talking, but his pace evidently matched his sluggish intellect. And he could not give up the idea which had obsessed him, ever since he had seen me.

FASHION FLICKERS

by PIERROT

They used to greet the rising sun in Mother Hubbard wrappers. Which, to say the least, was rather hard on the sun. But they do it differently nowadays. This probably accounts for the fact that the daylight saving law is so popular with old Sol. Who wouldn't arise an hour earlier in order to see effects like this in misty blue satin and georgette?

"And what of this woman?" he grumbled. "How do you know this newcomer may not be somebody in search of her? I tell you she should have been in the bottom of the little lake by now with a weight tied to her ankles."

"Look here!" Ernest's tone had a quaver in it now. "Will you wait a minute with me, please, and I'll tell you something. Now I'll give you fair warning. One more word about her, or any more monkey work, and you'll go to hell so quick you won't know what sent you there. You know me, Al. Savvy?"

There was a moment's silence, which to me, listening, seemed an hour. I knew as well as if I had power to read the process of Otto's mentality that the faintest debate upon Ernest and become master of the situation in the only way possible to him—by sheer brute strength. (To be continued.)

The SOUL CATCHER

by ABIMED ADULLAH

While the eyes of his body were closed tightly, the Kurd stared steadily, relentlessly, with the eyes of his soul, stared in the direction, half a dozen blocks away, of the store which had once been the property of Mr. Catreopoulos was just then making a triumphant inventory of the rugs and brusses and embroideries that had belonged to his ruined competitor.

He visualized the Greek's features—the plump oval of a face, the round button of a nose, the full lips with their vulpine smile, the abnormally long ear lobes, the heavy, black eyes, he visualized him meeting about the shop, from pile of rugs to pile of rugs, from boxes overflowing with Syrian shawls, from ledger to day book; and his mind followed Mr. Catreopoulos' busy figure as a wave follows the rolling round breast of the sea—coming closer to shore—closer, closer, with each jerking un-behaving, obedient, for all the staccato surge, to the eternal swing and rhythm of the cosmos.

He watched the soul of the Greek with some fragment of his own soul, some detached projection of his inner-most consciousness; watched it as a cat watches a mouse—playing, sporting, before the final killing pounce.

Mr. Catreopoulos finished his rough preliminary inventory and walked to the door of the shop to return to his main store on Fifth avenue. In another minute he would be out on the street where five-ton drays disputed the right of way with surface cars and arrogant motor trucks, while "flivvers" of all breeds yelped about their heels like fox terriers.

But he stopped on the threshold. He felt very much as he had felt that night, a week earlier, just before he had fallen asleep—just before the "accident," as if an inner voice was warning him of a terrible danger. And the danger seemed to lurk outside in the maze of the street.

He stood there, irresolute, telling himself that it was the result of his accident, that he was still nervous, upset.

Should he go back into the shop, and sit down, and rest, and smoke a cigarette? Or should he—

"Mr. Catreopoulos!" came an excited voice; and his servant Mavrikos rushed into the store, pleasurably excited.

"Mavrikos! Shikandar Khan is in town!" he cried.

"He called at my house. He wanted to know where you were."

"You told him?"

"To be sure. But I made a mistake at first; told him you were at your Fifth avenue place. Then I remembered that you were here, and I also remembered how anxious you were to see him, and so I jumped into a taxi and went after him—he had given me his address—and told him."

"Where is he?"

"Over there"—Nicholas Mavrikos pointed south—"half a dozen blocks away!"

"When did you leave him?"

"Just a few minutes back!"

"Did—did he say anything about coming to see me?"

"No sir. He was not even dressed. He was with another man. If—"

"All right, all right!" Mr. Catreopoulos had turned a deadly white. "I shall be—"

He was in a quandary. For, outside, in the streets, he could still feel, subconsciously, a grim, lurking, pitiless danger. On the other hand, there was the Kurd, half a dozen blocks away!

The man had sworn a triple-riveted oath. To be sure—and yet—suppose! Just suppose!

No, no, no! He would be safer in his main place, on Fifth avenue. His clerks were there, and the policeman at the corner knew him, while here, in Rector street, he had many enemies.

And so he ran out into the street looking for a passing taxicab.

Still, Shikandar Khan followed him with the eyes of his soul, with a detached projection of his inner consciousness.

All memories of the casual realities of life had fled from his mind. He seemed alone in some hollow of eternity where there was only himself and the Greek—and his brother, back yonder in the corner, whiskey-sodden, wretched—and adia—black haired, black eyed!

The ancient spirit of the earth whispered in his ear, shot past his soul in never-ending cycles, and his mind flashed out and caught a flying end of it. Then his mind seemed to rise, to float enormously, to race with the speed of streaming, cutting, ice-cold winds.

And, the next moment, something like a great whirling of wings filled the room. A huge, shapeless, gray cloud came out of the nowhere—a cloud that, steadily, pitilessly, broke into bits, frayed into long, cooling, whiplike streamers. They moved in all directions, like the tentacles of an enormous octopus. They buried the room beneath immense vibrations.

Then, suddenly, one of the tentacles rushes straight through the window. It entangled itself amongst the traffic that clustered beneath the Rector street Elevated station.

From a distance, half a dozen blocks away, came an agonized, choking entreaty.

Winifred Black FOLKS AND THINGS

Writes about

Well, for goodness sake, the queerest things do happen in this world!

In California there's a place down by the sea they call Venice—waves and beach and things, don't you know—and the other day one of the c o n g r e g a t i o n o f t h e c h u r c h e s passed a resolution to ask the city fathers to please go and ask the airplane people not to fly quite so low on Sundays.

They say that the buzzing of the wings distracts the attention of the children of the congregation, and last Sunday just as the soprano was starting in on her solo, an airplane flew over and she might as well have been singing on the screen in the movies for all any one could hear.

No, it isn't a dream; it's the plain, everyday truth, as we tell it in these days of wonder and amazement.

Venice is the place where they have a parade of red-haired girls every summer, and the girl with the reddest hair and the girl with the longest red hair and the girl with the thickest red hair and the girl with the prettiest red hair, every one of them gets a prize.

Tell me, O OTHER DAYS.

When I was a girl the one grief and tragic woe of my life was that I had red hair. I thought there was no misfortune on earth equal to that, and I will never forget the day that my whole soul rose up in revolt and fury at the bitter injustice of life, when my oldest sister leaned out of the window and before a crowd of schoolmates, leaning on a picnic, called me "Red Head."

The thing I hated worst about it was that that particular sister had red hair that was a good deal redder than mine, but of course I couldn't say anything about it because she was older than I was and would have been "talking back."

Red hair! Yes, I think it's pretty. To be quite honest about it, I like red hair better than any other color. But I never saw a red-headed man or woman who did not still in a corner and watch the clouds roll by without lifting a finger to help give the clouds a shove.

All this I say quite boldly and in utter shameless disregard of all the conventionalities of, of course, the color of the hair you were born with, or, at least, to say you do.

Live in hope, little sister—some day freckles may be considered a mark of almost vampire-like beauty—you never can tell.

I'd say to her "Looka here, LIGHT of my LIFE! This is where you get your WICK TURNED DOWN!"

What's the idea of this? He is a great big grizzly of a man—all voice and eyebrows and will-power and profile. Looks like a tank when you see him coming and it's just about as docile as a tank if you try to cross him in a business deal. And she's a little mosquito of a woman. Doesn't come to his shoulder. Couldn't do four hours of the sort of work he pulled off in a ten hour stretch without breaking in a dozen pieces. Has to have breakfast in bed, and a certain shade of wall paper because she's so sensitive and new hats every so often or her feelings are hurt by the woman next door looks. Four room apartment and it's simply killing her to do the work. Every night when he comes lumbering home she—"JUST WORN OUT!" So—she NAGS.

Nags about the house. Nags about his friends. Nags about his pipe. Nags about the way he eats his soup. Nags about the dress she has. Nags about his mother. Nags about the man "she might have married if she hadn't been a fool." Nags because he stayed at his office. Nags because he left his office. Nags about the next morning with a little heavier "hang over" of bitterness and disgust—and unbecomingly himself to his intimate friends on his opinions of the married state.

"Well, why do you stand it?" says I to him, "when you could end it as easy as anything. Why don't you tell her where she herds in and that sort of fracas once for all?"

"I stand it," said he in a grand and eloquent voice, "because I want to keep the peace. After all she's only a little, helpless woman and my natural sense of chivalry won't let me turn upon her." And more in the same oratorical strain. To which of course I murmur polite assents, but HE IS WHAT I THINK OF MEN LIKE THAT AND WOMEN LIKE THAT AND THAT SORT OF A ROW.

"Stand it because you want to keep the peace?" says I. "You stand it because SHE'S GOT YOU BUFFALOED, SON—BUFFALOED."

GARL'S BEDTIME STORY

By HOWARD R. GARL

"Tap! Tap! Tap!" came a knock on the door of Uncle Wiggly's hollow stump bungalow one morning.

"Tap! Tap! Tap! Tap! Tap!"

"Who's there?" asked the bunny rabbit gentleman.

"I'm Jimmie Wibblewobble, the duck boy," was the answer.

"Oh, come right in, Jimmie!" called Uncle Wiggly, as he got up from where he was taking his comfort in an easy chair. "Come right in. Is any one in at your house?" asked Mr. Longears. "Did you come to have me go for Dr. Possum in my airship?"

"Oh, no! We're all well at our house!" quacked Jimmie. "I came to ask if you didn't want to come over to see Dippy?"

"See Dippy?" That is a new kind of corn meal pudding, with small sauce on, that you mother is making?" asked Uncle Wiggly with a laugh.

"Oh, no!" and Jimmie quacked and laughed at the same time.

"Well, who is Dippy, or what is it?" asked Uncle Wiggly.

"Oh, Dippy is a duck," was the answer. "But he's quite a different duck from either of my sisters, Lulu or Alice, and he's even different from me. He's a very queer duck."

"Well, if his name is Dippy I should say he was queer," spoke Uncle Wiggly. "Why is he called that?"

"If you'll come over and watch him swim you'll soon see why he is called 'Dippy,'" spoke Jimmie.

"Come, you hop over to our house, Uncle Wiggly. I want you to meet my cousin Dippy. He just flew in from the country yesterday and I've been telling him about you. He wants to see you, but he doesn't fly very well, and so we don't go far from the water. He's a fine swimmer, though. Can't you come over?"

"Why, yes, I think I might hop over this afternoon," spoke the bunny rabbit gentleman. "Just now I am staying in to wait for Grandfather Goosey Gander. As soon as he comes to play a game of Scotch checkers with me I'll hop over to your house."

"Thank you!" quacked Jimmie. "Dippy and I will be waiting for you."

"All right," answered the bunny. And, as Jimmie Wibblewobble waddled away, the bunny rabbit gentleman said to himself, "I wonder why Dippy has such a funny name?"

Well, he was soon to find out, as they say in story books.

A little while after that Grandpa Goosey Gander came to the hollow stump bungalow and then Uncle Wiggly and Uncle Wiggly had played a number of games of Scotch checkers, the bunny rabbit was ready to go to the house of his friend of Jimmie Wibblewobble.

Uncle Wiggly was hopping through the woods, wondering what was the matter with Dippy, when, just as the bunny rabbit gentleman came to a little lake in the middle of the woods, he heard a rustling in the bushes and out popped the bad old fox.

"Oh, ho! Oh, ha!" barked the fox. "You can't get away from me, Mr. Longears, by whanging me on the head with a sea-saw teeter-tauter. I have caught you, and he grabbed the bunny by the ears.

"Yes, I guess you have caught me," said Uncle Wiggly, sadly enough. "But please let me go. I'm not a bad fox, you know."

"Who are you?" asked the fox, looking all around. "Where are you?"

"Here I am; out here," was the reply. "See if you can get me!" And then Uncle Wiggly and the fox saw a small duck out in the middle of a lake.

"Get you!" Of course I can get you!" barked the fox. And then, as he could swim as good as any duck, he paddled after the little duck. Faster and faster went the fox, but faster and faster went the little duck.

"I have you!" suddenly cried the fox, as he made a grab. "I'll have roast duck as well as rabbit sauce for dinner."

But, just as he thought he had the duck, it dived under water, just like a fish, and the fox was so surprised that his nose went under water and he snuffed some of it. He swallowed some and he choked and coughed and spluttered until he was all kerflummoxed.

But the little duck dived down below the waves and swam under water, coming up close to shore where Uncle Wiggly was standing.

"Run along to Jimmie's house, Mr. Longears," said the little duck. "The fox is full of water he can't chase you. I'll meet you there."

"But who are you?" asked the bunny.

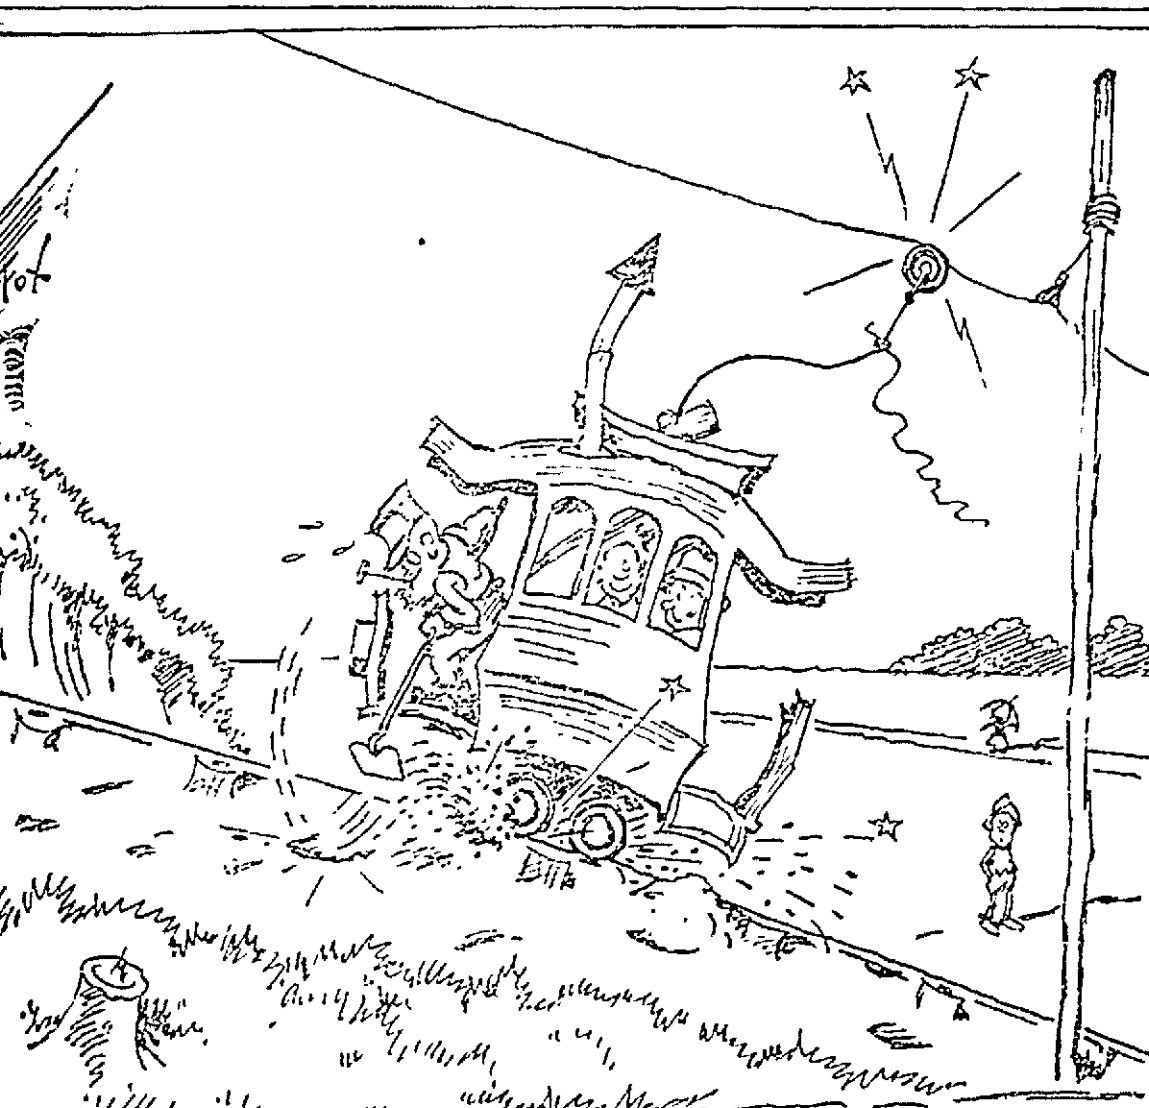

"I'm the Dippy Duck," was the answer. "They call me that because I dip down and dive under water whenever I see danger, and I saw some fear just now when the fox was after me." Then the Dippy Duck went under water again and swam beneath the waves to Jimmie's house. And Uncle Wiggly hopped there, also, and had a good time with the Dippy Duck and the others.

As for the fox, he was so full of water he could hardly swim back to shore, and he didn't get any rabbit sauce that day, nor the Dippy Duck either.

Old Mother Earth, who has closely guarded her age for her entire life, is four hundred million years old, according to a paper read before a scientific society recently. In more scientific phraseology, the approximate age of the earth, it has been discovered, may be determined by dividing the amount of salt in the sea by the amount brought down each year by the rivers that empty into it. Sir John Murray, Prof. Joly and M. DuBois, all famous geologists, are responsible for the very method of computing the age of the terrestrial sphere.

STEEL HELMETED DOUGHBOYS KEEP ORDER IN OMAHA

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 30.—A steady rain fell all during the night probably did more to restore order in Omaha than anything else, following Sunday night's rioting when a negro was taken from the Douglas county courthouse and lynched after the building was set afire. One white man was killed and several of the 57 injured are expected to die.

Mayor Smith, who was cut down after being hanged from a light post, will probably recover. Military guards patrol in front of his hospital.

Last night Omaha presented a semi-military appearance with steel helmeted doughboys patrolling the negro district and other parts of the city. Army trucks, armed with machine guns, whizzed through the streets. Occasional shots could be heard, but the officials report no serious trouble.

A huge captive balloon for observation purposes has been hoisted over the negro section, where 15,000 negroes live. Here also machine guns have been set up at intersections where the soldiers can sweep in four different directions.

The American Legion has volunteered to furnish local authorities 300 special police, recruited from overseas veterans.

Omaha business men, meeting yesterday, deplored Sunday's rioting and have asked that a permanent military unit be stationed at Fort Crook near here.

"I'm glad the brute was killed," said Mrs. Joseph Loebach, mother of Agnes, 18-year-old girl who identified Will Brown, the negro, as the one who robbed and later assaulted her. The girl has broken down completely and is in a serious condition.

Omaha society women approved the negro's lynching and many were seen in the crowd cheering the mob as it attacked the courthouse and fought back police inch by inch until the prisoner was reached.

SUGAR BOWL TO DISAPPEAR IN DINING ROOMS

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The festive sugar bowl is due to disappear again from tables in public dining rooms in Chicago, as it did during war time.

United States District Attorney Cline will confer with hotel and restaurant owners today and will ask them to remove sugar bowls from their tables as a means of aiding in the conservation of sugar and avoiding a serious famine in Chicago.

Dealers declare that an actual lack of available supply and not hoarding is responsible for a shortage of sugar that amounts virtually to a sugar famine.

RENTALS STUDIED BY CITY ASSESSOR

Work on assembling all rent rates charged by apartment house owners and other renters in Oakland started today in the office of City Assessor Harry G. Williams, preliminary to "boosting" valuations of all places where exorbitant rental rates are charged. In many cases Williams says he has found that rents have been raised eighty to one hundred per cent.

"The landlord whose raises are only legitimate will have nothing to fear," said Williams. "The owner who has raised two or three dollars to cover taxes and material costs will be left alone, but the owner whose rates have jumped beyond reason, the illegal profiteer, will get a tax bill next year that will probably stagger him."

"How I became acquainted with the situation was this: I began to be besieged by tenants in apartment houses who told me that the high taxes had forced up their rents. They said that when they protested they raised the landlords told them tax increases were the cause. I investigated and found that while taxes had increased perhaps fifty cents on the hundred dollars to these places, rents had risen in most of the cases before me from eighty to one hundred per cent. Then I got busy and arranged this plan."

Wife—I wish I knew what to do with this skirt. It's good, but some what out of style.

Husband—Why don't you give it to the laundress?

Wife—Don't be funny, George. She's a good laundress, and I would not offend her for the world.

LYDD GEORGE TO MAKE FOOD RELIEF APPEAL

By EARLE C. REEVES.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—An attempt to wreck trains in the railway strike was reported in an official statement given out at the premier's official residence in Downing street today.

"Some minor acts of sabotage were reported," the announcement said. The text of the official communique follows:

"Railway service is improving. Yesterday's schedules prepared by the railway companies is now exceeded. Some minor acts of sabotage were reported. There was one case during the night where red and green signals were altered. The distribution of food satisfactory, largely due to the spirit of the volunteer workers."

Robert Smilie, head of the coal miners' union, the second branch of the "triple alliance," estimated in a statement made in Glasgow that the national rail tie-up will throw 90 per cent of the coal miners into idleness within a few days, even if they do not join the strike. Already about 100,000 miners are idle.

Traffic on the railway lines in England, Scotland and Wales is staggered, but officials of the government claim that volunteers have offered their services in such numbers that better service probably will be given during the next twenty-four hours.

Premier Lloyd George is planning patriotic appeals to the mayors of the cities and other civic heads to organize food relief services.

Efforts are being made by the strike leaders to extend the movement. According to the Daily News, the bus and street car operatives in London may be called out before night.

Women Will Dine and Discuss League

BERKELEY, Sept. 30.—For a discussion of the covenant of the League of Nations a luncheon will be held at noon Thursday at the Hotel Shattuck, with three prominent women as guests of honor. The special guests of the occasion will be Miss Gertrude Barnum, former head of the bureau of investigation for the department of labor at Washington, D. C.; Miss Frances

WILSON HOPES TO AVERT ANY TREATY CHANGE

By HUGH BAILLIE.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—President Wilson has been given to understand that the situation in the Senate with regard to ratification of the peace treaty "is much improved" since he went on his speaking tour, according to information at the White House today.

One situation that is considered encouraging is found in news coming to Washington from California. The administration watching closely Senator Johnson's anti-league campaign on the coast, and the announcement that is considered so important is that Chester M. Rowell of Fresno, a politician and personal friend of Johnson in many campaigns, has decided to trail him through California replying to his anti-league agreements.

Improvement in the situation from the administration's viewpoint has been continuous during the last ten days, the President has been told.

Friends of the treaty, he was assured, now believe that ratification is possible without reservations or amendments which would necessitate sending the document back to the peace conference.

However, there is no immediate prospect of starting to vote on the treaty. The disposition at the White House is to wait until the administration is delaying a vote because it has not enough strength to force a showdown.

Secretary Tumulty went to the Capitol late yesterday. Then late last night he saw the President. There is said to be no chance of Wilson soon meeting senators to discuss the situation. For the time being at least he will not participate directly in the treaty fight, and, according to Dr. Grayson's orders, will have to keep his mind off it as much as possible. But he insists on knowing something about what is going on at the Capitol, as evidenced by the fact that he was receiving a report on the situation before he had been back in the White House for eight hours.

Plans for the industrial conference October 6 are being pushed. The "round table" discussions will start in the Pan-American building. Jolliffe of San Francisco, founder of the Woman's League to Enforce Peace; Mrs. Robert Dean of San Francisco, chairman of the woman's luncheon held across the bay in honor of President Wilson.

Miss Bertha Rickoff will preside at the luncheon with Mrs. William Carey Jones as honorary chairman. Reservations may be made at the Hotel Shattuck until tomorrow night.

Trolley Lines Face Doom, Expert Holds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Resuming its diagnosis of the financial and other troubles of the nation's street railways, the Federal Electric Railways Commission was told by Walker Jackson of Brooklyn, an expert on street railway affairs, that some means must be found to continue the operation of the systems, which, he said, "are not yet ripe for the fate of the stage coach and the horse car."

There are many men in the street railway business, Jackson asserted, who see only one way out of the difficulty that confronts them—higher fares, with decreased utility or subsidization from public funds.

"The optimists are agreed," he continued, "that the industry will be able to take care of itself so long as it is granted relief from unfair burdens, and so long as it is granted temporary financial aid upon proof that it is prepared to avail itself of the technical resources of the art in the manufacture and sale of electric railway transportation."

Train Kills Woman Walking on Tracks

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 30.—Sarah Briggs, 65 years old; of Santa Rosa, was instantly killed by a Northern Pacific train near here yesterday. Mrs. Briggs, it was said, had been reading a letter while waiting between the rails and did not hear the train approaching. She is survived by four sons, all of Sonoma county.

If you saw it in The TRIBUNE, tell them so. Thank you.

REX BEACH'S

GREAT DRAMA OF THE NORTH

"The Girl From Outside"

The story of a wholesome girl who unconsciously controls the destiny of five crooks, all of whom fall in love with her.

REX BEACH, author of "The Girl From Outside," was born in Atwood, Michigan, in 1877. As a young man he studied law and received his degree from the Kent College of Law in Chicago.

He practiced for a short time, and then joined in the rush for gold, but not on the desire to get the new country and to take his part in the adventures of a world which revealed a new horizon.

In physique Rex Beach is the counterpart of many of his fiction heroes, stalwart, inured to hardship, yet fundamentally courteous and a good "pal." These qualities served him well in his adventures in the north. Out of them came a series of stirring novels, such as "Pardners," "The Spoilers," "The Barrier," "The Silver Horde," "The Auction Block," "The Heart of the Sunset," and "The Iron Trail." Several of Mr. Beach's novels have been made into photoplays by the Goldwyn Pictures Corporation.

"The Girl From Outside," Mr. Beach's latest picture, is the photoplay version of his story, "The War Lady."

Mr. Beach spends much of his time at his home in Ardley on the Hudson, though the early summer usually finds him at his lodge on Lake Hopatcong, N. J. At present Mr. Beach is at the Goldwyn studios in Culver City, Cal., cooperating with the Goldwyn staff in the production of his next picture, which will be released under the banner of Eminent Authors, Inc., of which he is president.

Rex Beach is also president of The Author's League, and a member of The Lambs, The Players, The Free Club of Chicago, and The New York Athletic Club.

THIN BLOOD WAS CAUSE OF CHILLS AND NERVOUSNESS

California Woman Endorses Blood Builder That Restored Her Health and Strength.

"My strength had given out completely and I was going into a rapid decline," says Mrs. Lella Arnold, of No. 358 Forty-fourth street, Oakland, Cal. "I was so run down that I didn't have any feeling in my arms and my hands were numb and blue. My complexion was sallow and I seemed as though I was as nearly bloodless as a person could be and live. I didn't have any appetite and was nervous and irritable and suffered from headaches. My sleep was broken and I had to get up at night and rub my arms and legs to get up the circulation. My limbs became so numb at times that I could stick a pin into them and not feel it."

"A friend who lives in Fresno told me what benefit she had received from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to try the remedy. I could see a great improvement after the first box. The change was noticeable in my increased appetite. I gained ten pounds and the numbness gradually left me. My complexion is good now and my color is improved. I sleep well and don't feel nervous or irritable. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills restored my health and I am glad to endorse the remedy."

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., on receipt of price, 60 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. For the free booklet, 'Building Up the Blood,' an advertisement."

Man Discovers Cause of Falling Hair

Thought it Was Dandruff, But Prof. John H. Austin, Bacteriologist, Hair and Scalp Specialist of Chicago, Showed the Ailment to Be 'Alopecia Pitryodes'.

Prof. Austin, who has had 40 years' experience in conditions of the hair and scalp, says there are about sixty different ailments to which the hair and scalp are subject. For instance, there is the above mentioned 'alopecia pitryodes'—it starts with a scaling of the scalp, sometimes slight, called 'dandruff,' sometimes abundant—producing thick, grayish-white dry or greasy scales which lead to falling hair. This stage lasts from two to seven years, as a rule.

At first, when the hair starts to fall, it is hardly noticeable, but as this ailment, 'Alopecia Pitryodes,' becomes more deeply seated and the roots multiply as they always do, the falling of the hair increases rapidly and in time the top of the head becomes entirely bald. Both men and women of all ages are subject to 'Alopecia Pitryodes,' but particularly those between the ages of 20 and 40 years.

Then, there are different stages of itching scalp, falling hair, excessively oily hair, dandruff, split hair, dry and brittle hair, and so on.

Prof. Austin says that the use of mange cures, dandruff cures, hair tonics, and hair oils is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure.

During the past two years at the Owl Drug Stores, Prof. Austin has examined hundreds of people who stop falling hair, grow new hair, remove dandruff and relieve itching scalp.

Prof. Austin has found that only the most powerful microscope can determine the exact trouble with which your hair is afflicted.

Both men and women are invited to take advantage of this free microscopic examination of the hair and scalp. It is held every Monday and Tuesday, 4 p. m. daily. The Owl Drug Stores, 13th and Broadway, Washington, D. C.—Advertisement.

SUIT WILL TEST SALOON ENTRANCE

A friendly suit, one of the most remarkable in local court annals, is to be started soon in the superior court to ascertain if a new door to an established business is legally the establishment of another business.

The suit was decided on at a conference between members of the city council, City Attorney H. J. Hagin and W. H. L. Hynes, former district attorney, representing Charles Appleton, owner of a saloon on Washington street. Appleton proposes to cut through an entrance to his place of business on Seventh street, according to the city attorney this means practically a new saloon on Seventh street, which would make more than allowed there under the Hart ordinance. Hynes contends that a new door to an old business does not make a new business, and that therefore Appleton cannot be prevented from using his new door.

At his suggestion the application was denied, Hynes stating that Appleton would go ahead with the work, the legality to be tested in court.

"I wish to give notice now that there is no intent to break the law," said Hynes. "In other words we don't want this action to be construed as a violation of the law that the council would feel might sacrifice."

"There is no intention to break the law," said Hynes. "I readily concede that this will be an act designed purely to form the basis for a friendly suit to ascertain what the law is. I agree that this would be a wise plan."

According to Hynes, if the courts find that a door on another street means another saloon, practically every corner saloon in Oakland will be involved in legal difficulties. Hynes says he is paying two licenses, although practically all have entrances on two streets. Hagin conceded that this would be a question that would give rise to complications. Appleton is barred from his plan.

Hynes obtained a stay until tomorrow in the consideration of the license application of Felix, owner of the Panama Hotel on lower Broadway. This license was revoked following a shooting there. On the ground that Vest was acquitted of the crime, Hynes asks that the license be restored. He wants the property he rents seconding his application. Chief of Police Lynch has recommended against the restoration of the license on the ground that this would be "undesirable."

COUNCIL AIDS IN FIRE PREVENTION

"Fire Prevention Day," October 3, will have official sanction, through vote of the city council, a proclamation having been voted, at the request of Councilman F. F. Morse, to urge the public to participate in the affair.

"Fire prevention educational films and lessons in fire education for the children are to feature the day. The council's resolution follows:

"Whereas, The United States suffers a tremendous loss annually, both in human lives and property, from fire, and it is the duty of the city of Oakland to be entirely preventable; and

"Whereas, Carelessness, ignorance and neglect are primarily responsible for this appalling waste; and

"Whereas, October 3, the anniversary of the great Chicago fire, has been set aside and is known as National Fire Prevention Day, for the purpose of launching an educational campaign for the prevention of fire; now therefore, be it

"Resolved, That this Council does hereby call upon the citizens of Oakland and particularly the fire prevention day, and be it

"Further resolved, That the press be furnished with a copy of this resolution."

Insect and Worm Are Truly Explained

The insect and the worm were diagnosed yesterday in the police court.

And thus the education of P. Bottolchini, Italian, and J. Seda, Japanese, who were charged with purveying aged pears, came before Police Judge Samuels.

"Charged with selling bad pears, insects in 'em," said the judge.

"What is it?" inquired puzzled Bottolchini. Then it was explained.

J. Seda said his pears were always good, in fact he had a pear worm in one. He didn't know what it looked like. He was paid $30 for the information.

Recreation Plans Ready to Present

Clark W. Hetherington, state supervisor of physical education and recreation in Oakland, will present the perfected plans for state organization before the first meeting of the Oakland Recreation Association on Friday night in the recreation room of the Girls' High school, Geary and Scott streets, San Francisco. Those who have returned from service with the army and navy will be the particular guests of the reception, which will follow the program.

Japan Wants to Sell Ships in America

TOKYO, Sept. 29.—(By Mail to United Press.) Japanese shipbuilders are offering to sell their new ships and that the output of new tonnage will exceed the demand. They are planning on selling the excess ships in America and Europe. It is worked at capacity 1,300,000 tons can be built next year. The probable output, however, will be around 800,000 tons, which is 100,000 tons more than this year. Japan is interested in whether Japanese interests can absorb that tonnage.

Housewives Plan War on High Costs

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 30.—Housewives' Council is the name that probably will be given to an organization to be launched here tomorrow as the outgrowth of mass meetings protesting against the high cost of living, held by women of Portland the last few weeks. This council will be open to every woman of the city and is designed as a means of providing a place in which their problems may be thrashed out.

TRANSPORT COMPANIES SEEK RAISE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—Ten of the largest transportation companies operating in the bay district filed a petition today with the State Railroad Commission for authority to increase their rates. Petitioners claimed that since present rates were established by the commission in 1918, they have been compelled to increase the pay of their drivers 33 1/3 per cent with a 10 per cent increase in overtime. Employees, who formerly received $2.42 a day for a ten-hour day and 65 cents an hour overtime, according to the petition, now receive $3.64 for a nine-hour day and $1 an hour overtime. It was contended that gasoline had increased in price 47 per cent since June, 1918, repairs 40 per cent, insurance 10 per cent and compensation insurance based on the payroll 33 1/3 per cent. The petitioners ask that in view of these figures an increase of 20 per cent plus changes in classifications be granted.

Those who signed the petition were: The Santa Fe Express and Transportation Company, Merchants Express and Draying Company, American Transfer and Storage Company, Peoples Express, Kellogg's Express, Hault-Weger Transfer and Storage Company, Austin Freight Transportation Company, Williams Motor Express and Draying Company, United Transfer Company and the Oakland Parcel Delivery.

Five Heavy Shocks Are Felt at Calexico

UNION PRESS TO TRIBUNE. CALEXICO, Cal., Sept. 30.—Five heavy earthquake shocks were felt here during the night. The longest lasted fifteen seconds. No damage was done, but visitors to the city and many of the permanent residents were somewhat alarmed.

Health Center Drive Continues Intensive Canvass Is Planned

Men and women who have pledged support to Alameda County Public Health Center will remain with the financial campaign until the $200,000 estimated to be necessary for the purchase of a site and erection of a building is raised.

The women workers have organized for an intensive canvass of the residential section of Oakland this week under the leadership of Mrs. John H. Perine. The women's headquarters are being maintained in the Syndicate building with Mrs. Perine, Mrs. M. L. Andersen, Mrs. Bertram Eddy, Mrs. Morris Falk, Mrs. A. D. Glaser, Miss Annie Florence Brown, Mrs. Edward Hough, Mrs. Newton E. Koser, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Potter in charge.

The business and industrial districts have been assigned to prominent men who are acting as captains in presenting the appeal of the public health center to public service corporations, manufacturers, banks and business houses.

TEACHERS GIVE AID. Oakland school teachers are giving an enthusiastic support to the movement. The faculty in the Dewey school has put itself on public record as favoring the center, pledging to it their support.

The following additional subscriptions have been received:

Schools: Laker, $30; Fremont high, $28; Stoneburg, $3; Beulah, $1; High school, $48.

FALL PROPOSES MORE CHANGES IN PEACE PACT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Great Britain would have as many as 24 votes and the United States but four in the international labor organization proposed under the peace treaty, Senator Fall, Republican of New Mexico, a member of the senate foreign relations committee, declared this afternoon in a formal statement.

For that reason alone, Fall added, he would offer a motion in the senate to strike from the treaty to labor addendum providing for the organization and the participation of the United States in it.

Senator Thomas of Colorado and Hoke Smith of Georgia, Democrats, had both previously expressed opposition to the international labor plan and are said to support Fall's motion.

Thomas has announced that he would offer textual amendments to the addendum if it were permitted to remain in the treaty.

If you saw it in THE TRIBUNE, tell them so. Thank you.

JUDGE IS PEEVED BY BOOZE CASES IN "DRY TIMES"

His honor was unusually stern when eighteen drunks were led before him.

Police Judge Mortimer Smith wore a look that might have interpreted "this has gone too far, too far, indeed."

For he began penalizing the accused with a vengeance that was startling to say the least. "Six dollars or three days," he snapped to all the offenders who appeared.

The rest had forfeited their bail of $5.

Mary Harris represented the gentler sex. Mary of police court history. And the judge's pride was hurt at seeing Mary before him when the town was supposed to be dry.

"Fifteen days for you, Mary," said his honor.

"Now whadda yuh think of that," quoth Mary of old. "I sure got up the wrong side of the bed this mornin', did his honor."

Aged Chaplain, Friend of Roosevelt, Is Dead

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—The Rev. Major Edward J. Vattman, intimate friend of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and the oldest ranking Roman Catholic chaplain in the United States army, is dead here today.

He was appointed an army chaplain by President Hayes in 1877 and served through several frontier Indian campaigns, the Spanish-American war and the late European war.

MISSING CUPS SHOW THIEVES FIRED CHURCH

ALAMEDA, Sept. 30.—Firemen are delving into burned ruins of St. Joseph's Catholic church today looking for the missing tabernacle set which should have been found intact in the tabernacle when the latter was carried from the burning church by the firemen after Father Eugene Warren had made a vain effort to save the tabernacle. Father Warren, one of the assistant pastors, is positive that he locked the tabernacle as usual Sunday night after placing inside the tabernacle the eucharist or communion set.

Failure to find the communion set will indicate with considerable directness that the church was robbed of a part of its communion service and afterwards set on fire, though the firing of the edifice may have been accidental and caused, possibly, by the upsetting of the lighted tapers which were near the tabernacle, in forcing open the tabernacle doors.

CUPS ARE VALUABLE

The tabernacle is a receptacle in which communion cups are kept. The most valuable cups, however, are not kept permanently in the tabernacle but are removed after service for safeguarding. The monetary value may be from $150 to $2000 for such cups. In the place of these high-valued vessels of solid gold, are left cheaper cups, though even the cheaper cups are gold-lined and worth perhaps $150 apiece or more. It was these cheaper cups which appeared to be missing.

Fire Chief Walter Steinmetz says that there is no evidence of the fire starting from painters' rugs, as the painters finished work several weeks ago. The fire chief also says that the church wiring was carefully carried out by the same expert who is now arranging for the rebuilding of the church.

There will be a meeting of parishioners next Sunday afternoon in Lafayette hall when plans for rebuilding will be considered.

The church was insured for $11,000 and there is a surplus parish fund of several thousand dollars. This will form a nucleus for the new building fund. No estimate of the total amount required is yet available.

The Rev. Father Prausht and his two assistants, Rev. Father Warren and Rev. Father J. J. Bane, were busy all day yesterday with plans for carrying on the church work without loss of time.

Governor Orders Oriental Survey Check on Japanese Is Purpose

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 30.—The State Board of Control has been ordered by Governor Stephens to make a complete investigation of the Asiatic problem. The order is in conformity with a resolution adopted by the last legislature. No direct reference is made to Japanese, but the movement is known to be directed toward the subjects of the Mikado.

Governor Stephens' letter to the Board of Control, in full, is as follows:

At the last session of the California legislature there was adopted senate concurrent resolution No. 19, relating to the leasing of land in the state to persons ineligible to citizenship.

I desire to call your attention to this resolution, and in conformity therewith request you to make a thorough investigation and prepare an accurate, detailed and comprehensive report upon the subject.

This report should include all necessary and pertinent facts and be of such nature that it may serve as an official and authentic document for the guidance of the state and national authorities in dealing with this question and in presenting California's attitude regarding the problems which have been the natural outgrowth of such conditions.

PROBE TO BE THOROUGH

I would be pleased if, for this report, you would secure separate, specific and definite information concerning aliens constitutionally ineligible to citizenship in this state, and also concerning American-born children of such aliens, as follows:

The number of said aliens and the number of said children in each race subdivision now here, engaged in agricultural pursuits, together with a statement showing what relation these present figures bear to those reported in the federal censuses of 1910 and 1915.

The total acreage of land held in fee by the separate race subdivisions of said aliens and of said children, and the extent these subdivisions are cultivated by persons of their own race, together with a statement of the number of acres now controlled under lease or other contract by each race subdivision, together with a statement showing, and so far as possible, include comparisons with similar facts existing in previous years.

Such pertinent facts as you may be able to secure concerning the methods employed in securing land leases or otherwise for cultivation, the character of the land, the tendency toward colonization in particular localities, the methods of financing such enterprises, etc.

OCCUPATIONAL FACTS

The number of said aliens in each race subdivision engaged in separate mercantile pursuits in this state, their business occupancy of certain districts, their methods of financing, their mode of living and the effect upon American-owned establishments of like purpose.

The number of women of each race subdivision of said aliens that have immigrated into the state during the present year, also the rate of birth of children in each race subdivision of said aliens and a comparison with previous years.

The value of the report will be only in the relation to the facts furnished California and her legislature but also in the presentation to the national government and to the congress of the United States the plan and authenticated facts and conditions now existing in California.

Whatever state of facts such as in.

DAVID HARUM

D. Harum traded blacks and bays, a mare or horse that wouldn't pull, and in his happy swapping days he always kept a stable full; he made quick deals that brought in cash, and thereby kept the wolf away; his cunning, furnished bread and hash, each time he sold a balky gray.

D. Harum's nags were always kind, and trained to run, or trot, or pace, and though they might be deaf and blind, he'd prove each nag could win a race; he got big wads of greenback kale for ring-boned, spavined, balky steeds, but somehow he kept out of jail and had a bankroll for his needs.

D. Harum, if alive today, would find few horses left to trade, but he would find a way to put all traders in the lasso; he'd trade old autos, worn and bent, with engines made in Nineteen Six, for limousines without a dent, and show us other trading tricks.

The people of California was adopted at the first meeting of the Anti-Japanese Association of California held here last night.

The executive committee is today preparing the most drastic anti-Japanese laws and initiative petitions to be circulated, in order to get a vote on the ballot in 1920. The program includes cancellations of the "gentleman's agreement" with Japan; exclusion of all picture brides; prevention of any more Japanese entering the country; barring Japanese forever from American citizenship; amendment of Article 11 of the federal constitution providing that no children in the United States of foreign parents can become citizens unless both of their parents are eligible for citizenship.

J. M. Inman was elected president, Senator F. S. Bages of Stockton, vice-president, G. C. Roeding, secretary, and Henry Wulf, of Venice, treasurer.

Steamer Alert Sinks; Asparagus Pack Lost

RIO VISTA, Sept. 30.—The steamer Alert, loaded with a cargo of 1,000 cases of asparagus, picked up at the local cannery, sank in the wide part of the channel opposite this place Friday night.

The boat is said to have been overloaded. The loss of the boat and cargo is put at $1,000.

All of the crew escaped in lifeboats.

WOMAN SLAIN BY EX-CONVICT POLICE THEORY

That the murderer of Mrs. Frances Pandolfi, killed at her home, 57 Lombard street, San Francisco, yesterday, may be an ex-convict and former prison companion of Michael Lucia of Oakland, son-in-law of the slain woman, is the theory upon which the police are working.

One saw the murderer come or from the Pandolfi home, which occupies the rear of a lot. The theory upon which the police are working is that he told a fellow prisoner that Pandolfi kept his savings at home, and that the prisoner, the knew of the life savings hidden there, the police are convinced the robber and murderer secured $2500, which had been kept in a wooden chest.

Four years ago Michael Lucia killed his wife, daughter of Mrs. Pandolfi, in this city, and is serving a life sentence in San Quentin. The theory upon which the police are working is that he told a fellow prisoner that Pandolfi kept his savings at home, and that the prisoner, the knew of the life savings hidden there, the police are convinced the robber and murderer secured $2500, which had been kept in a wooden chest.

The child and his grandfather had left the home in the morning, the boy on his way to school, the grandfather to work.

Parents Fear Boy Seeks Sweetheart: That Earl Merkel, 17 years old, has deserted his Oakland home and is on his way to Los Angeles to join a sweetheart of his boyhood days, is the belief of his parents who have appealed to the Oakland police to locate their boy.

Young Merkel left his home at 3330 Piedmont avenue Sunday. He gave his parents no reason to suspect he was leaving, but enquire made to his associates revealed that the boy might have gone to Los Angeles.

Why Your Piano Should Be a DUO-ART

Because the Duo-Art is first and foremost a genuine piano—one of four famous makes, each of which is the finest and most lasting piano-value at its price that can be obtained anywhere. Be it the glorious Steinway, the beautiful Weber, the sweet-toned Steck, or the popular-priced Stroud, it is an instrument of finest quality for hand-playing.

But there are two other important reasons why your piano should be a Duo-Art. One is the privilege it accords you of playing the piano with your own musical feeling—of interpreting, yourself, the works of the great masters; classic and modern, even though you are not able to play by hand. For the Duo-Art is a Pianola (greatest of all player-pianos), which means 88 wonderful pneumatic fingers ready to play, with simple guidance from you, and all piano music. The other reason is the almost unbelievable power of the Duo-Art to play for you the greatest music of all time, as played by the greatest masters of today. The Duo-Art unlocks by your touch on a little lever the greatest musical treasures this century has to offer. The actual playing of Paderewski, Bauer, Hoffmann, Ganz and scores of others—the purest of classics played by masters to inspire and instruct the student of your household—the most captivating dance music for the young people to dance to. The additional cost of the Duo-Art is negligible compared to the limitless pleasure it brings.

We cordially invite you to come in and hear the Marvelous Duo-Art
